

ANTISEPTIC MINERAL WATER.

A sure preventive of all Contagious, Infectious and Miasmatic Diseases, as Yellow, Swamp, and Malarial Fevers, Cholera, Small-Pox, etc., etc.

Prepared by C. A. HOLCOMBE, Hickman, Ky.

A Good Joke.

A traveler stopping with his pastor was mortified to see him visit a closet for each meal and quietly take a drink from a suspicious looking bottle. His guest, who was a stranger, was surprised to find the pastor so fond of the bottle. He was shown that it was a bottle of Dr. A. Q. Simmons' Liver Medicine that was used, and he was assured, that to that extent, the pastor was largely indebted for serious form from dyspepsia, which was cured by this medicine.

This medicine is for sale by Buck & Cowgill, who also have some trial packages to be given away to applicants.

LOST!

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT THAT the Quinine or Chinchilla will cure Chills, and for this purpose there is no better remedy. But it is also an established fact that they do not remove the cause of the Chills. For if they did, the Chills would not return on the 7th, 14th, 21st or 28th day. Then is it not money lost? The Chills are cured, not the cause of the Chills removed. For until the cause is removed, the Chills will return. The

FERRINE

Is warranted to remove every cause from the system that produces the Chills, and it fails to do this, your money is lost. For every druggist is authorized to guarantee a permanent cure in every case, no matter how long standing, and will refund the money if the Chills return after you have taken it. Positively, no cure, no pay. Try it and be convinced. It contains no poison, and is perfectly safe. A permanent cure guaranteed in all cases. Manufactured and Sold by E. W. GROVE, 227-101, Hickman, Ky.

Manhood: How Lost, How Restored!

Just published, a new edition of Dr. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical cure (without medicine) of SEXUAL NEURALGIA or Sexual Weakness, Nervous, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., also, Consumption, Extremes and Fire, induced by self-indulgence, or sexual extravagance, etc.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hand of every youth and every man in land.

Sent free of charge, in a plain envelope, to any address.

Citizen Tax-Payers!

I do not wish to be considered harsh, nor do I wish to speculate on your delinquency. But I am constrained to tell you candidly who have not paid their taxes for the years 1877 and 1878, that unless the same is paid promptly I shall lawfully upon and sell your property. Remember that the law allows five per cent. for every day which must be paid by the party owing the taxes. I shall make these costs, or will you pay up and save it yourself? That is the question. I mean business.

Respectfully,

Sept. 15. Mrs. Harriet Routh has re-opened her select school for girls on Monday, Sept. 15th, in the German school building.

Mr. Abe Platt is now in the East buying fall and winter goods, and other Hickman merchants will follow in a few days. The prospects are flattering for a much improved trade.

MRS. CARRIE MAHONEY. Announces that her school will reopen on Monday, Sept. 8. She commences under encouraging prospects. She has an instrument at Mrs. Jones', and will also give lessons on the piano.

McCutchen buys his goods for cash, and henceforth will only sell for cash, or ten days time to prompt working men, or any one else that will pay. J. H. PLAUT & BRO.

The fever is still raging in Memphis and the mortality is on the increase, while the cases are double what they were. The cold weather has apparently had no effect upon the dread destroyer.

Antiseptic Mineral Water prevents yellow and all malarial fevers, Cholera, Small-Pox, etc.

There is no doubt, if the weather is favorable, but what we have more visitors to our County Fair this season than ever before, and a finer exhibition of stock. We hear this expression from nearly every body.

Thank your wife and babies. Buy the Honey Drip Syrup, at J. H. PLAUT & BRO.

The firm of Hertweck & Baltzer, will be compelled to make considerable enlargement in the way of houses for the accommodation of their large and rapidly increasing trade. We hear they will employ as many as 150 hands the following season.

The number of horses being stolen, missed, or strayed, in this section indicate the operation of a regular clan. The farmers will have to organize, and when a horse is taken, spare neither time or money until the thief is captured and punished.

McCutchen is selling the finest Kentucky test Coal Oil at 20 cents per gallon. J. H. PLAUT & BRO.

It is possible, but not probable, that the yellow fever will spread to any distant point from Memphis this season. If the towns will keep up their sanitary attentions and quarantine a few weeks longer, all danger will certainly be passed.

The splendid grain crops in this country and the foreign demand for grain which is at present reported, certainly gives promise of more prosperous times. Let no one expect a swell of prosperity—people are in debt and their debts must be paid—but there will be a healthy improvement.

It is very well to brag on your city, but let every man remember that "faith without works is dead." You can never move the wheel by standing in front and beckoning it to come on, but if you step behind it and put your shoulder to the wheel it will go forward.

We learn that the members of the Woodland Mills back-bell club are anxious to engage in a contest with the Hickman boys, and had there been an organized club at this place, would have challenged them some time ago. Why don't some of the boys make an effort in this direction? Will Capt. R. make the effort?

WE HAVE JUST RECEIVED a fresh lot of Groceries such as Bacon, Lard, Dried Beef, Sugar, Coffee, Molasses, &c., which we offer to the trade at the lowest market price. J. AMBERG & SONS.

India Ink Pictures—There is an exhibition at Plaut & Bro's Store a specimen of India ink picture, which is the most beautiful life like portrait we ever saw. It will delight the lovers of art to call and examine. Any of our citizens desiring portraits in India Ink can now be accommodated. It is pronounced far superior in every respect, especially in durability, to the pastel work. Remember to call at Plaut & Bro's, and examine for yourselves, where information can be obtained as to costs, &c., and orders left.

Saw and Joe Kirkpatrick are mad. McCutchen has instructed them to put all kinds of Groceries down to bottom prices, for cash, and the other merchants are giving him hell—call Columbia street.

A CHALLENGE.—An enterprising home manufacturer challenges the record, to show any line of business, in this section, which pays an equal per cent. to manufacturing. The same capital, prudence in management, attention, industry, &c., to be considered. All things fairly considered, he will stake his reputation on the statement that manufacturing pays double the per cent. of any other legitimate business. If this can be demonstrated, why will men prefer directing their capital, time, &c., in the old routine?

Council Proceedings.

Hickman, Ky., Aug. 30, 1879. At a called meeting of the Council May 1st, 1879, the following business was transacted:

On motion, the Mayor was directed to make such change as he might deem advisable for the interest of the city, in regard to the written contract with the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad concerning the city wharf.

Councilman Paris presented the following ordinance, to-wit: Sec. 1. Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Hickman, That all persons engaged in any business or trade who sell beer, ale, or other malt liquors, shall be required to pay a license on the same of one hundred dollars per annum.

Sec. 2. That all druggists selling opium, opium tinctures, or any other narcotic liquors shall be required to pay an annual license of twenty-five dollars, except such opium tinctures as are used in compounding medicines, and then only on the prescription of a physician.

Sec. 3. Any person violating this ordinance shall be fined not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, and each selling or furnishing to a person shall be deemed a separate offense.

This ordinance shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage and publication in the Hickman Courier, and until the next annual election.

H. A. TYLER, Mayor. On motion, said ordinance was passed on its first reading. On motion, the Mayor was directed to cause the ordinance to be published in the Hickman Courier, and to cause the same to be read at the next Council meeting.

On motion, the night watch was discontinued. On motion, the garbage cart was dispensed with, and all persons are required to remove their own garbage.

On motion, the Mayor appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. Tyler, Plaut, and Campbell, to contract for a boat for a pile driver.

On motion Council adjourned. R. E. MILLET, C. C.

Tilden Modestly Declares Himself a Candidate. A Southern gentleman, who called upon ex-Gov. Tilden yesterday, said to your correspondent: "I asked the Governor if he sought the Presidency, or was so very anxious to secure a nomination. He smiled, and replied: 'I have yet to hear of any one who would take the office, but I am not so anxious about it as some persons think I am. If the people wish me to be their candidate I shall willingly respond to their wishes.'"

I asked the Governor if he thought the Democratic would carry New York State this fall in the face of the existing differences in the party. He replied that the differences were not great, but that they could be overcome. The only disturbers of party unity were a few men in New York whose influence was over estimated. He had no doubt but that the Democracy would carry the State in the fall and again in 1880."

Gov. Tilden's health is reported to be excellent. Gov. Stevenson, of Kentucky, who is here, says Judge Thurman is more frequently spoken of as a probable Democratic Presidential candidate in 1880 than Mr. Tilden.—Gazette

Everybody talks of "Mason and Dixon line" yet many are ignorant as to its location. It is the parallel of latitude 39 degrees 43 minutes and 23 seconds, separating Pennsylvania and Maryland. This line was surveyed by Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon two distinguished mathematicians and astronomers. The line properly begins at the North-East corner of Maryland, running due West: "Mason and Dixon line" formed the dividing line between the free and slave states, in the original confederation.

A Thought. The following from Neal's State Gazette is too good to be lost, and therefore give it space in our columns. It is very applicable to Hickman: "Could natural advantages—confounded the phrase—make a city, then the people of Dyersburg might become lumber eaters, go to sleep and wake up in the masses. In the absence of these inducements, sensible men will not adopt any town as a home—and they ought not. In the absence of these conditions, any town must cease to grow, come to a stand still and eventually be the stage of decay. It is well enough for all interested in Dyersburg to occasionally make this subject a matter of earnest consideration."

It is very applicable to Hickman: "Could natural advantages—confounded the phrase—make a city, then the people of Dyersburg might become lumber eaters, go to sleep and wake up in the masses. In the absence of these inducements, sensible men will not adopt any town as a home—and they ought not. In the absence of these conditions, any town must cease to grow, come to a stand still and eventually be the stage of decay. It is well enough for all interested in Dyersburg to occasionally make this subject a matter of earnest consideration."

WHY DON'T THEY VOTE?

It is an alarming view in the condition of affairs in Kentucky that out of 400,000 qualified voters, rarely more than 200,000 of them can ever be induced to exercise the right or privilege at any given election. The voice of the majority of our people is the sovereign, controlling authority, and yet we doubt if any State officer, from Governor down, ever receives a majority of the actual voters of the State. Blackburn was elected by a majority of 14,000 over his next highest competitor, and yet he likes a clean 100,000 of having carried a majority of the qualified voters in the State? Why is it that the people don't vote? Is it because they are disgusted with the attempt of the people ruling themselves, and desire to relegate the duty of ruling to certain classes of citizens, or is it from ignorance as to the importance of their duty to vote?

The same question can be asked in regard to the attendance upon the public schools. Less than one-half of the children of school age attend school, when the privilege is free, and every inducement offered to get them to attend. Our own conclusions are that this general neglect in voting, and this general failure to send children to school is caused, in one class of our people, by ignorance, and in another by the all absorbing interest to make money. Make money, this is the grand object, aim and purpose of a large majority of our people. The privilege and duty of voting is esteemed as nothing if it interferes with the making of money. We don't believe that our forefathers were so much superior to the present generation as the 4th of July orators represent, but it is undeniable that they did, on occasions, display such a spirit as patriotism; that they did, while recognizing the value of money, hold some things a little more sacred than money. In this day and time, at least, a majority of the people no doubt prefer to wrong, and if compelled to vote would so pronounce, but as to public matters at a public election, there must be individual causes to induce a majority to go to the polls and declare for the right and against the wrong. The reason is that individual interest overrides all interest in public affairs. If this continues through many years, the result must be ruinous and destructive to our present form of government. Office holders seeing the spirit that actuates the people, will, inch by inch, turn public affairs to their individual interest, until the public interest is entirely ignored.

And the trouble is that the condition of affairs seems irremediable—until public affairs are rushed into such terrible abuses as to arouse the people, and give chances to one this will only be one through a revolution and change of form of government. This is as certain as any cause produces an effect. Our institutions can not live under the weight of ignorance, indifference, and use of individual gain, now prevalent and increasing. It is the fashion to praise the selfish man, and besides full money bags bring a deal of comfort, privilege and liberty; but, it is also true, that to make money gathering the off of life, subordinating every public duty to money, will in the end prove ruinous to any people. The money lovers are of the very class who have the intelligence to be fit to vote, and let them stay away and assist in misdirecting the ignorant vote and the calamity attending ignorance is thus magnified. So of the two, we say, that money loving is the weight that is destroying this country.

Gov. BLACKBURN was inaugurated Tuesday. There was a large crowd present.

The United States Board of Health thinks the yellow fever will commence to subside about Sept. 10th, and gradually disappear even before frost.

Physicians just arrived at Washington City from New Orleans express the opinion that the yellow fever cannot now gain a firm foothold in that city. They also say the first case there this season was caused by infected clothing.

With six counties to hear from the vote for a Convention to revise the Constitution is 123,224. This is a majority of the vote polled, but as all the stay-at-home voters are counted in the negative the proposition has been defeated by a large majority.

STATE Treasurer Polk, of Tennessee, was to see the President Monday to ask him to order the issue of railroads to the Memphis people. Mr. Polk represents the sufferings in Memphis as very great, and that the Governor of Tennessee cannot act without convening the Legislature.

KENTUCKY POLITICS.

It is reported that Dr. Howard Henderson, Superintendent of Public Instruction eight years past, but defeated this year for re-nomination by Prof. Deha Pickett, will, on retiring from office, proceed to establish an independent Democratic journal at Frankfort. Dr. Henderson is an experienced journalist, and it is believed that he can make a success of such a journal where the need of one has long been felt, especially if true to his independent programme of talking right out in meeting. Such a course, bottomed upon facts which are facts, would certainly create a breeze in the ranks of the dominant party in Kentucky. Besides Frankfort being confessedly a clique ridden capital, very much needs a stirring up of the dry bones for the benefit of its own health and progress. The incoming Governor, Dr. Blackburn, and his cabinet, is stated this evening, will make a clean sweep of the numerous clerical force employed for eight years past. In the public office on Capital Square all will have to go save one alone, and that is the accomplished and independent Chief Clerk of the Department of Public Instruction, Col. Ed. C. West, who according to his chief and the educators generally, has made that department a model of order, neatness and dispatch.

The Old and the New Again.

Kate Chase Sprague Affair.

[Special to the Courier-Journal.]
 NARRAGANSETT PIER, Aug. 31.—Mrs. Sprague's escape from Canoechett last evening, with her three girls, made a sensation. Since her return to Canoechett, she has been ill-treated by Gov. Sprague. His actions, her friends represent, culminated on Friday in an outbreak. Going home in an intoxicated condition, he burst into the room in which she was, and shouted to Mrs. Sprague, "Get up, you who is a woman!" He then dragged her around the room and attempted to throw her from the window, but those there prevented him. Mrs. Sprague then quietly began to escape from the place, and at half past five on Saturday evening she slipped away with the three girls, and was soon several miles away. The Governor and his nephew, Arthur Watson, who had been closely watching her, knew nothing of her going until she was well on her way. Watson, on discovering the flight, immediately started with the colored cook and searched the hotels at the pier, and finding her not hurried back. The Governor then took the team and started at a breakneck pace for Kingston Junction, eight miles away, thinking that she might have taken the train and hoping to intercept her. He had a hot race of it, arriving there just before the train, covered with mud and excited, but he failed to find Mrs. Sprague, so he took the way back to Canoechett. Willie Sprague, their son, who has sided all along with his father, was started in the direction of Tower Hill, but he returned without success. There are many theories as to how she got away. She did not take the train, and the impression is that she took a steam yacht, for one was seen in and about the pier late in the afternoon, and which, after touching at the Newport wharf, sailed away to the westward. A suit for divorce and for their possession is said to be in contemplation.

Here is the termination of a brilliant marriage for money and position, but without love and proper respect between the contracting parties. Kate Chase, the daughter of the Chief Justice of the United States, marries Mr. Sprague—worth forty million dollars. Both parties are now wrecked, their lives blighted and disgraced forever.

JAMES BOYD, Esq., of Gallaway county, has been appointed Chief Clerk in the Land Office at Frankfort, and has gone to that city to take his position.

The new Grant programme just been announced. That gentleman would leave Japan about the 25th of August and arrive at San Francisco on the 15th of September. He will loiter about on the Pacific coast awhile and go to New York sometime in November.

Governor Jas. B. McCarty. The term of office of Gov. James B. McCarty expires to day. I began on the last Tuesday in August, 1875, and closes on this, the first Tuesday in September, 1879. The distinguished features of his administration have been the quiet and conservative manner in which all its affairs have been conducted, the close personal attention which he has given to his business, and the laws affecting the Executive Department. He has been plausibly careful in his administration, and has acted with intelligence in rendering his decisions. One of his chief characteristics has been a perfect self reliance and the power to resist personal influence. He has acted fearlessly, and is entitled to the credit of having been independent of others.—Frankfort Freeman.

While our church people are bothering their energies about raising funds for the religious purposes, how would it answer in this latitude to adopt a moral plan now being exercised in certain localities of Connecticut. They call them "Religious Kissing Societies." In alluding to them, an exchange from the Natick State, says: "They are nice things and are highly enjoyable, and for raising money for any kind of a charitable purpose they have no equal. The usual prices are as follows: Kissing a young lady from twenty to twenty-five years of age, ten cents; from twenty-five to thirty years of age, five cents; kissing a young married woman while her husband looks on, one dollar, kissing old folks free, with a crown thrown in. If the young ladies wish to complete the church in course of erection, let them get up something of this kind, and we venture the assertion that enough funds will be forthcoming to do it, as every old 'bach' will even 'squander his wealth' in the cause."

Dr. Luke P. Blackburn.

Luke P. Blackburn, twenty-fourth Governor of Kentucky, was born, as we learn from the Biographical Encyclopedia of Kentucky, June 16th, 1817, in Woodford county, Kentucky. His father, Edward M. Blackburn, was one of the largest and most widely known farmers of Central Kentucky, known for the superiority of his thoroughbred horses, and for his hospitality. He and his excellent wife lived to celebrate their golden wedding, and died leaving a large number of descendants, having reared twelve children. The subject of this sketch, who was the third child, was educated as a physician, having graduated in medicine at Transylvania University, and shortly thereafter settled in Lexington in the practice of his profession. Here, also, he married Miss Ella Gust Boswell, daughter of Dr. Jos. Boswell of that place. Their son, Dr. Carey B. Blackburn, is also a physician of prominence in Louisville. At an early age Dr. Luke P. Blackburn became conspicuous for that humanitarian which has so greatly distinguished him in his riper years.

In 1855 Dr. Blackburn lost his wife, and to 1857 he visited the principal hospitals of England, Scotland, France, and Germany. In Paris he met Miss Julia Churchill, of Louisville, Ky., to whom he was married in 1858. She was noted for her beauty and accomplishments, which time has not dulled, and which will make her a charming mistress of the Executive Mansion. Shortly after his marriage, Dr. Blackburn settled in New Orleans in the practice of his profession, and was resident there when the civil war began. He enlisted in the Louisiana forces with the South, and became early attached to the staff of Gen. Sterling Price.

But it was in the great epidemic of 1878, when the stoutest hearts quailed before the grim monster, that he won all hearts by his unselfish devotion to the cause of philanthropy. His services in Hickman and other points, where he ministered to the sick, cheered the well, and comforted the dying by his presence, are too recent and too fresh in the grateful memories of every one to require mention in greater detail. His name had already been presented to the Democratic party of Kentucky for Governor, and when the Convention assembled in Louisville, on the first day of May, 1879, he was nominated by acclamation. His election by the large majority of 43,917 is an additional compliment, and gives earnest of the confidence with which the people of his native State regard him, and will, we hope, prove a happy augury of the success which awaits his administration. Dr. Blackburn is the brother of Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn, who is now serving his third term as member of Congress from the Ashland district, and of Hon. Jas. Blackburn, who was, at the late election, re-elected State Senator from the 22d district. His paternal uncle, William B. Blackburn, was a distinguished lawyer, resident in Versailles and Frankfort, and was three times elected Speaker of the Senate—two unanimous.

In person, Dr. Blackburn is of a characteristic Kentucky type, of full medium height, erect carriage, and portly form, though not corpulent; of health and vigor of mind and body, and having been for many years, a rigid disciple of Father Matthew's total abstinence principles, he has a countenance which beams in every lineament with philanthropy, and wins a place in the hearts of all who come within the sphere of its influence.

Something New.

A new religion, not yet three months old, has been conceived in the brain of a Cumberland Presbyterian minister, named Groves, in Texas. He says the world is soon to be at war, and the issue being between Protestantism and Roman Catholicism; after a terrible conflict the latter is to be destroyed. Another Cumberland Presbyterian preacher, named Goodnight, has accepted the revelation, and both together are expounding it with a good deal of effect in Bell and Navarro counties. Among their doctrines are personal cleanliness; the body must be kept pure, so that the soul shall be pure; believing wives are to forsake unbelieving husbands, which may have done. According to the scheme, Grant is the Anti Christ; he is first to become Emperor of the United States, and then to crush the kings and topple over the monarchies of Europe.

HOODS DEATH-BED.

New Orleans, Aug. 30.—General J. B. Hood died at 4 o'clock this morning. It is believed his daughter Lydia will not recover. Edith Hood is also very ill. General Hood was a military expression towards the last. Perceiving slight favorable symptoms he said to Dr. Remiss, "We may yet dislodge the enemy." As a measure of precaution none of his military associates to which the General belonged had been allowed to the funeral. General Hood leaves eleven children, the eldest ten years, and the youngest twenty-three years old. His physical condition has been bad for some time, caused it is alleged by financial reverses, and the death of his wife effected him very much. He leaves a manuscript history of the war, which he intended to have published this fall.

In the following-named States elections are to be held this year:

California, September 3.—Congressmen, Legislature and State officers.
 Maine, September 3.—Governor and Legislature.
 Ohio, Oct. 13.—Governor, State officers and Legislature.
 Maryland, November 4.—Governor and Legislature.
 Massachusetts, Nov. 4.—Governor and Legislature.
 Mississippi, Nov. 3.—Legislature and county officers.
 Virginia—November 5.—Legislature.
 New Jersey, November 5.—Legislature.
 New York, November 5.—Governor and Legislature.
 Wisconsin, November 5.—Legislature.

The meeting of the stock holders of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, to elect directors for the ensuing year, will occur on Wednesday, Sept. 10th.

Battle Between Giants.

[From Evansville Courier.]
 There is a breeze of war on the horizon between Russia and Germany. Bismarck and Gortschakoff are quarrelling about the results of the Berlin conference and the attitude of Prince Bismarck towards Russia during that memorable contest. The North German Gazette, Bismarck's organ declares that the Russian papers are uttering deliberate fabrications touching the particular difference that have led to the estrangement of the two great Princes, and boldly declares that Gortschakoff inspires their publications. The Gazette continues:

"The points are in dispute between Russia and the Western Powers referred to the questions of Batoum, the Dobruza, Sofia the war cost of the Russo Turkish and Bulgarian frontier. In all these points Prince Bismarck made concessions in favor of Russia, and in fact there were no demands imposed by Russia at the Congress which Prince Bismarck did not support. He did not recon upon Russia's gratitude and recognition of his friendly attitude toward her during the Congress. Had he done so he would now be in the position of the man who turned upon the broken reed."

The special Berlin cablegram to the Cincinnati Enquirer confirms the rumor of coming trouble, and adds that all the leaders of the Pan-Slavic agitation at Moscow, seem to be delighted with the two Empires; and as Bismarck is the object of their most fervent hatred, they advocate aggression against him. It is certain that Von Mke has asked for railroad and commissariat returns, rarely required except upon the eve of active service."

If war comes, England and Austria would probably side with Russia. It would be a battle between giants.

The lunatic who edits the Oklahoma Southern States has a counterpart in the lunatic who edits the Lemars (Iowa, Sentinel). Neither of these papers assume to speak, but as the Radical papers are so fond of copying, the Oklahoma States ravings, we give the following from the Lemars Sentinel for the edition of our paper. "With the nation's capital in the hands of traitors, the low but deep murmur of defrauded people grow in to rebellion everywhere."

"That gather, gather, gather. And rumbling over the grasses of a million dead heroes who seemed to have died in vain that the nation might live."

"They roll grandly into the awakened hearts of thirty millions of living patriots."

"Booming, booming, booming, for Grant in 1880."

"Transcendentalism, gush, reconciliation and all other tricks of reconstruction are played out."

"Exit doves, olive branches and fold do."

"Grant and gunpowder."

"Grant and bayonets."

"Grant and the gallows for traitors."

"Grant and the grand old Union Army on the march."

"Grant to the Presidential chair—his Congress and cabinet taken from the grim warriors who saved the Union."

"And to stay there till the crack of doom, if the integrity of the Republic requires it."

"It was the sword of the Fathers that created the Republic; it was the sword of their sons that defended it against foreign foes; it was the sword of their grandsons that rescued it from hell born domestic treason."

"To the army we owe our creation, preservation and redemption."

"From the ranks of the civilian and statesmen have come traitors and blustering impracticables and gushing sentimentalists and diabolical traitors."

"They may do when peach blossoms and butterflies dance in the sunbeams of peace."

"But when treason stalks at noon-day in the Nation's Capital."

"The sword must be unsheathed, the soldier must step to the front."

"Shot and shell, grape and canister, are the arguments traitors can under stand."

"Washington, Jackson, Grant—Why, all the so called statesmen the country has produced would not make a respectable shadow of this immortal trinity of warriors."

"Washington is dead, and Jackson is dead, but all that was great and good in both lives in Grant."

Wild Bill's Remains.

The Black Hills Times gives an account of the exhuming of the remains of Wild Bill, the celebrated desperado, on Sunday the 3d inst., to be transferred to Mount Moriah Cemetery. It will be remembered by our readers that Wild Bill was killed by Jack McCall at Deadwood in 1876. McCall being hanged for the murder afterward. The Times says it gets its information from Louis Schenck, an old time friend of Bill, and in whose memory Bill's enduring qualities are still bright and green. Colorado Charley, a partner of Bill at the time of his death, has purchased a lot in the new cemetery, and at his own expense procured a fitting monument of Italian marble that is now daily expected, which will be raised over his new resting place as soon as it arrives. At 4 o'clock Sunday morning the body was uncovered, and at 6 o'clock it was taken out of the grave. The body at interment weighed about 180 pounds, and on its removal it weighed not less than 300. There was no perceptible decay, and it is supposed by those who examined it that petrification has taken place. It was as hard as wood, and returned the same sound as a log when struck with a stick. Everything in the coffin was found just as it was placed there, and the rumor that the grave had been rifled was a myth. The only article buried with the body was a carbine, and that was in a poor state of preservation as ever. There was no knife and revolver buried with him as reported, and those who should know say that he never owned a pistol in his life. His hair was as glossy and silky when in life, and a lock of it is now in the possession of Wm. Learned, musical director of the Gem Theatre. His moustache was hard, and seemed, like his body, to have been petrified.

Citizen Tax-Payers!
 I do not wish to be considered harsh, nor do I wish to speculate on your delinquency. But I am constrained to tell you that for the years 1877 and 1878, that unless the same is paid promptly I shall levy and sell your property. Remember that the law allows fifty cents for every levy, and six per cent. additional, all of which must be paid by the party owing the taxes. Shall I make these costs, or will you pay up and save it yourselves? That is the question. I mean business. Respectfully,
 B. R. WALKER, Sheriff. jan1
